We arrive —
Only to find that when we get somewhere we hear of so many other places to go — expecting to find something that we can call ours.
Knowing that only those who search find treasures hidden in the least likely places.

We arrive —
But never settle down — we are perennial wanderers — wondering if where we are is the place to be.
Watching the same people passing the same way day after day — too frightened to look outside themselves, they close their eyes in disbelief that the world is theirs too.

We're moving —
But in circles — always coming back to where we were before — never looking inside ourselves to find ourselves and in our traveling we see so many things that we can do something about.
Is it because when we're confronted with new places and new problems that are too big to handle that we run back home to find things as they always were?

And safe again —
Away from problems and strange places,

We close our eyes —
And think about how much nicer it is to not have to move on — but now knowing too, that even if we remain static the world will move on —

He arrived and had a goal — to use his abilities to help others express their talents. Perhaps he found a treasure hidden here — and through the building he did and the advice he gave — he formed champions. He gave T.U. a sense of pride — the pride that comes from winning and being the best they can be. He did what he could here — and because he won't remain static — he will keep moving to develop himself and others we the staff dedicate the 1971 Blockhouse to Frank X. Lauterbur.

Too Much State Authority Or A Necessary Consequence Of Weak Administrators?

In the Spring of 1970, the Ohio Legislature provided a graphic demonstration of "legislative backlash" by adopting a hastily written, oppressive law as a reaction to campus violence. In the words of its authors, legislators were fed up with the lack of resolve and inability to keep order among the administrators of several state universities. Although taxpayers' dollars were going up in smoke across Ohio, those responsible for maintaining campus order were reluctant to use the powers at their disposal.

Amended House Bill 1219 is an attempt to force campus administrators to deal promptly and severely with those who perpetrate violence on campus. The bill itself provides stiff penalties for violent acts committed on campus and creates a new crime-disruption.

Unfortunately, the heat of passion (and the hot breath of the public) allowed the legislature to draft a bill contrary to common considerations of due process. Additionally, the ambiguity and pervasiveness of the bill may intimidate even legal, non-violent expressions of dissent.

For example, under provisions of the bill employees who establish a picket line may, if found guilty of disruption, be barred from employment at a state university. Also, to be found guilty of provisions of the bill no actual disruption must occur. An act which might precipitate disruption is sufficient for fining and/or imprisonment.

This repressive bill threatens to destroy much of the progress made at the University of Toledo in the area of due process and student rights.

Certain legislators have indicated that the bill may be amended to strike some of the more objectionable features, but the mood of a predominately rural legislature suggests little hope. Those who seek repeal of the bill have directed their activities toward the courts.

A group of TU law students and faculty have entered a suit challenging the constitutionality of the bill. These efforts have drawn some support from others within the university community.

In a period of decline of the doctrine of in loco parentis, governing units have reversed an appropriate trend by defining campuses as "special" locales in which "special" crimes can be committed. Acts committed on campus are subject to penalties far in excess of those which take place elsewhere.

Many students, including this author, wonder at Ohio's reaction to violent conditions while the state continues to ignore the lack of funding for higher education, and perhaps worse, some are perplexed at the reaction to violent students while those who engage in violence under the banner of law and order (e.g. the National Guard) are scarcely questioned.

— Joe Piasecki

"Bill 1219 apparently came about because it appeared to the legislators of this State that Universities are not able to control interior security of the campus. The State has the right to insure security of its institutions and this bill is therefore understandable and legal. If, in time, Universities demonstrate that they are able to control interior security of their campuses, Bill 1219 would become unnecessary and probably can be repealed. The burden of proof, however, is on the Universities because they are state property."

"No Comment."

"HB 1219 will cause no problem if it is not necessary to invoke it. This means students, faculty and administrators must work together to solve our problems internally."

"Universities should be judged individually as to effectiveness of their own judicial procedures."

"It is not a question of how much control. The difficulty stems from a lack of flexibility — too little provisions for the exercise of judgment by those responsible for Collegiate operations."

"The final result of Bill 1219 could lead to a "police state" campus."

"Bill 1219 will be modified as time, circumstances and students make it possible to manage student life on average college campuses with minimum difficulty. If students do not aid effectively in managing campus problems, legislative bills may be sought which might be more restrictive than 1219."

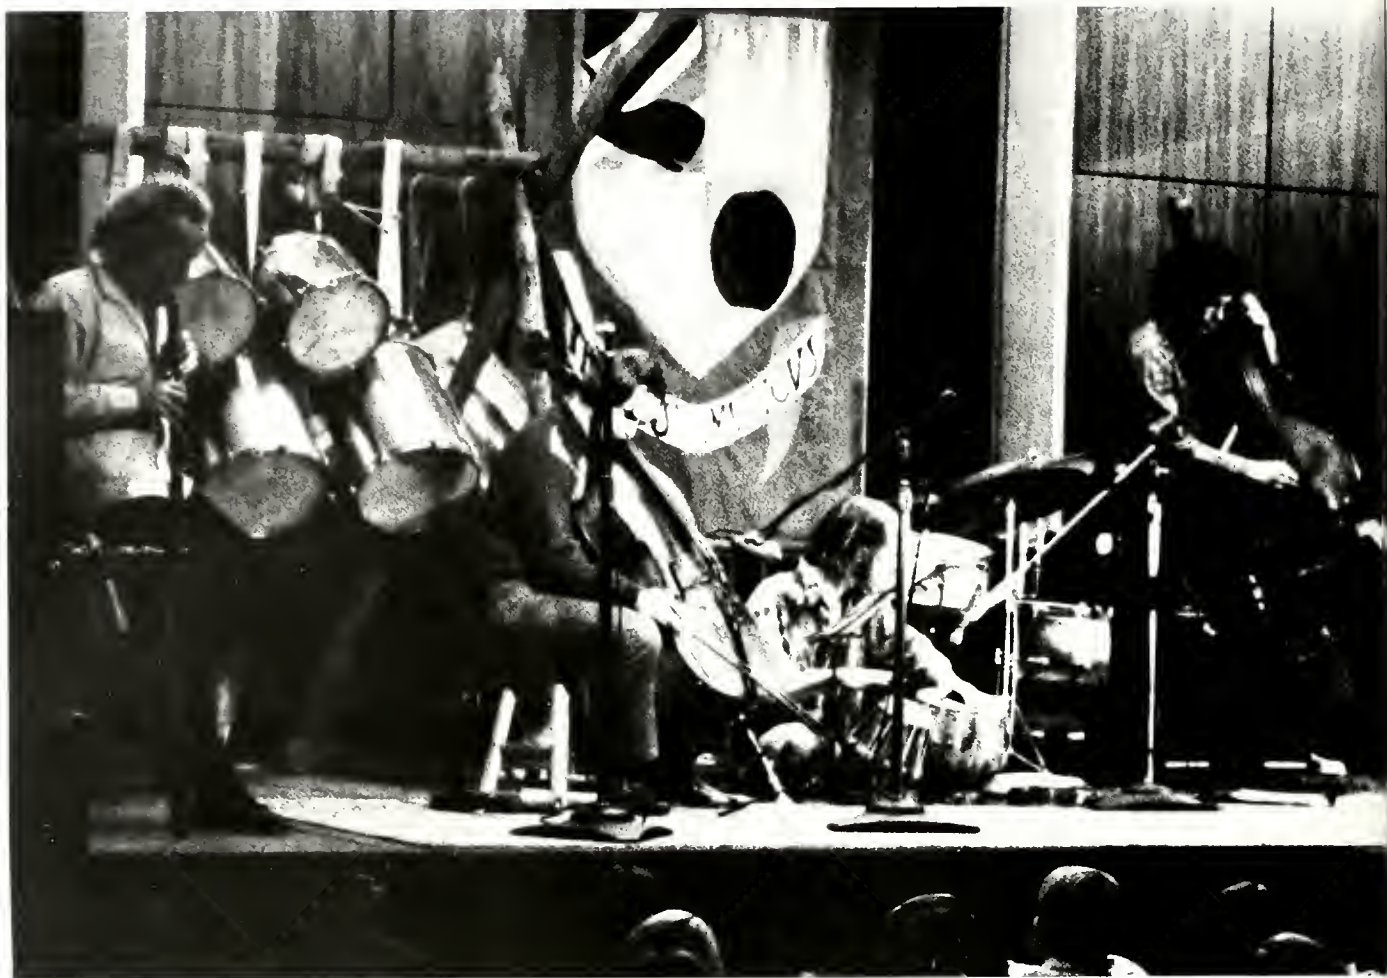

"The courts will be fair."

"Internal security on the campus can remain an internal matter if there is the will and desire to keep it so."

"Our students? . . . stable."

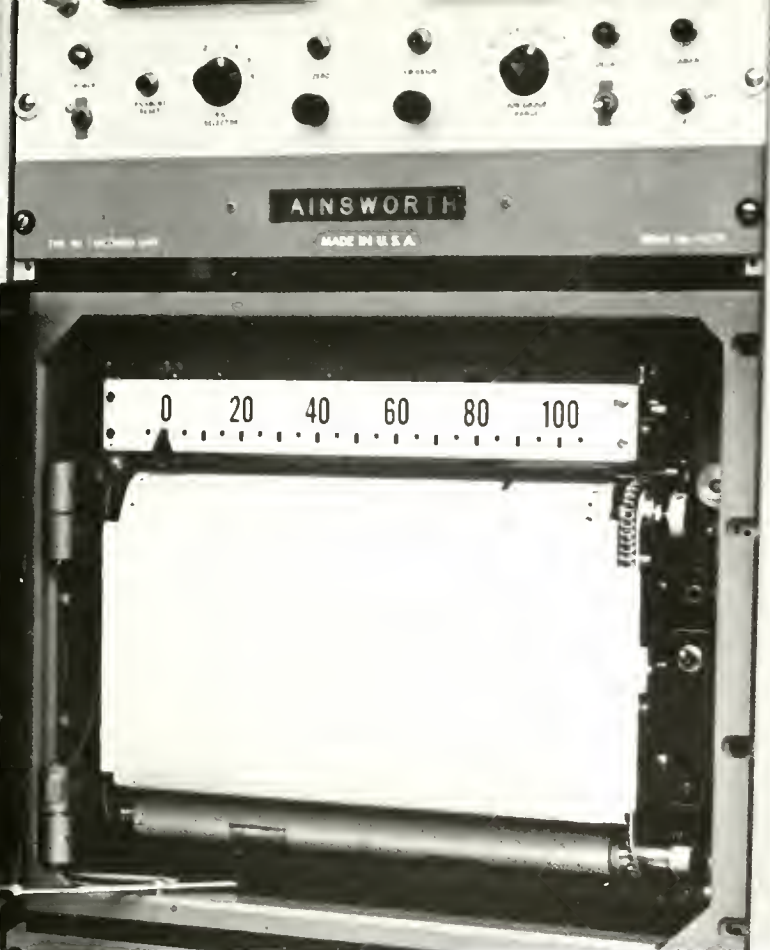

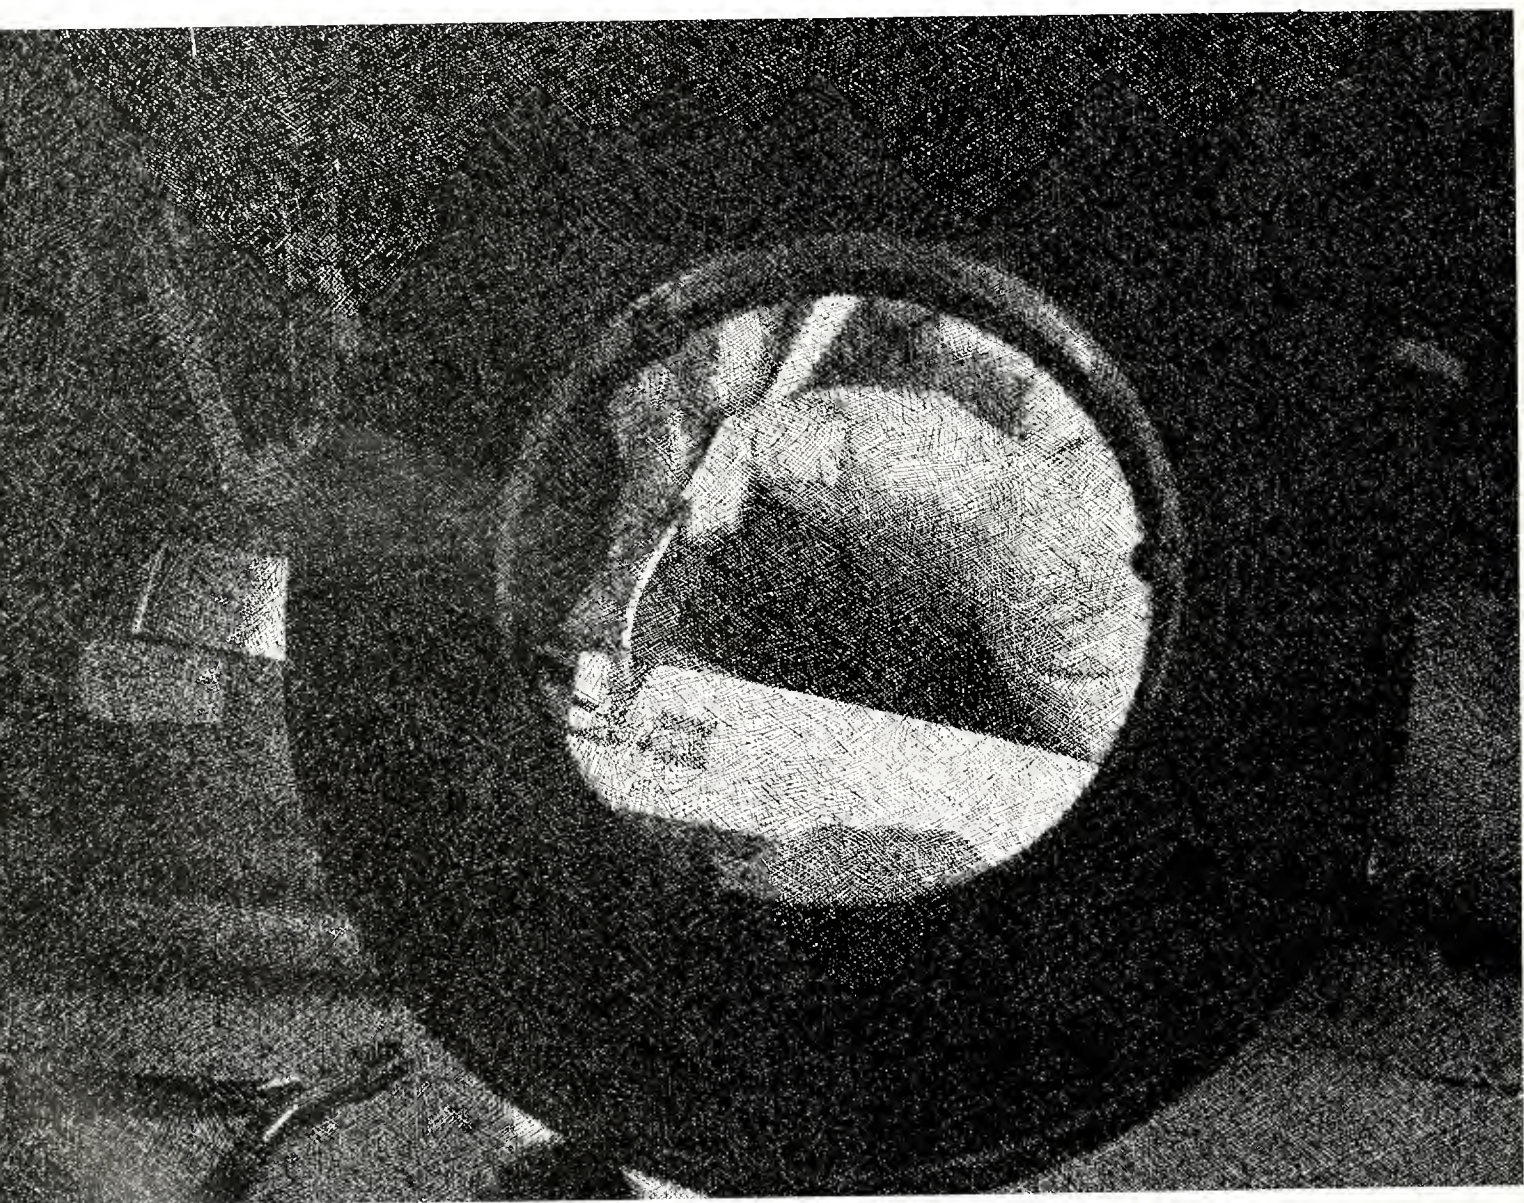

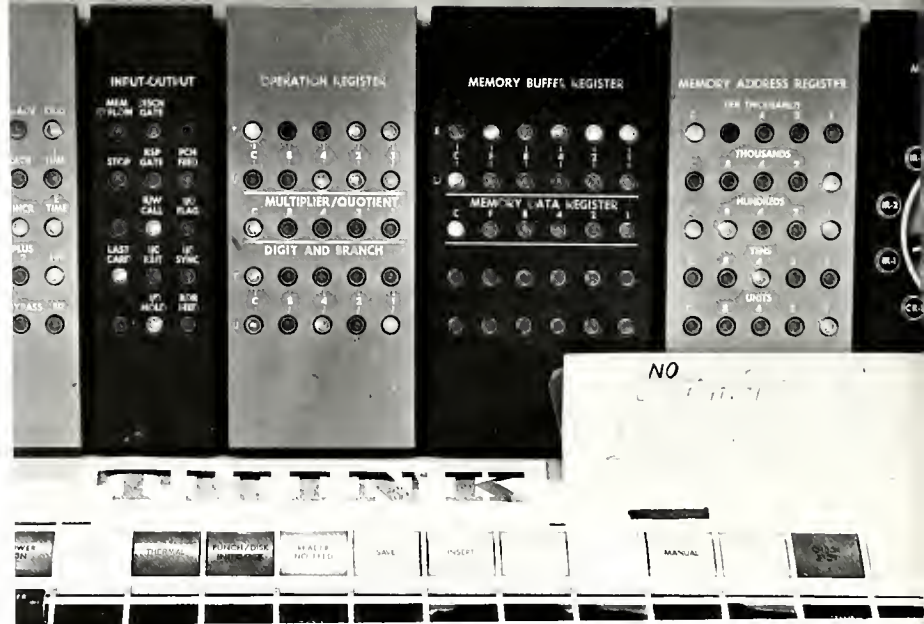

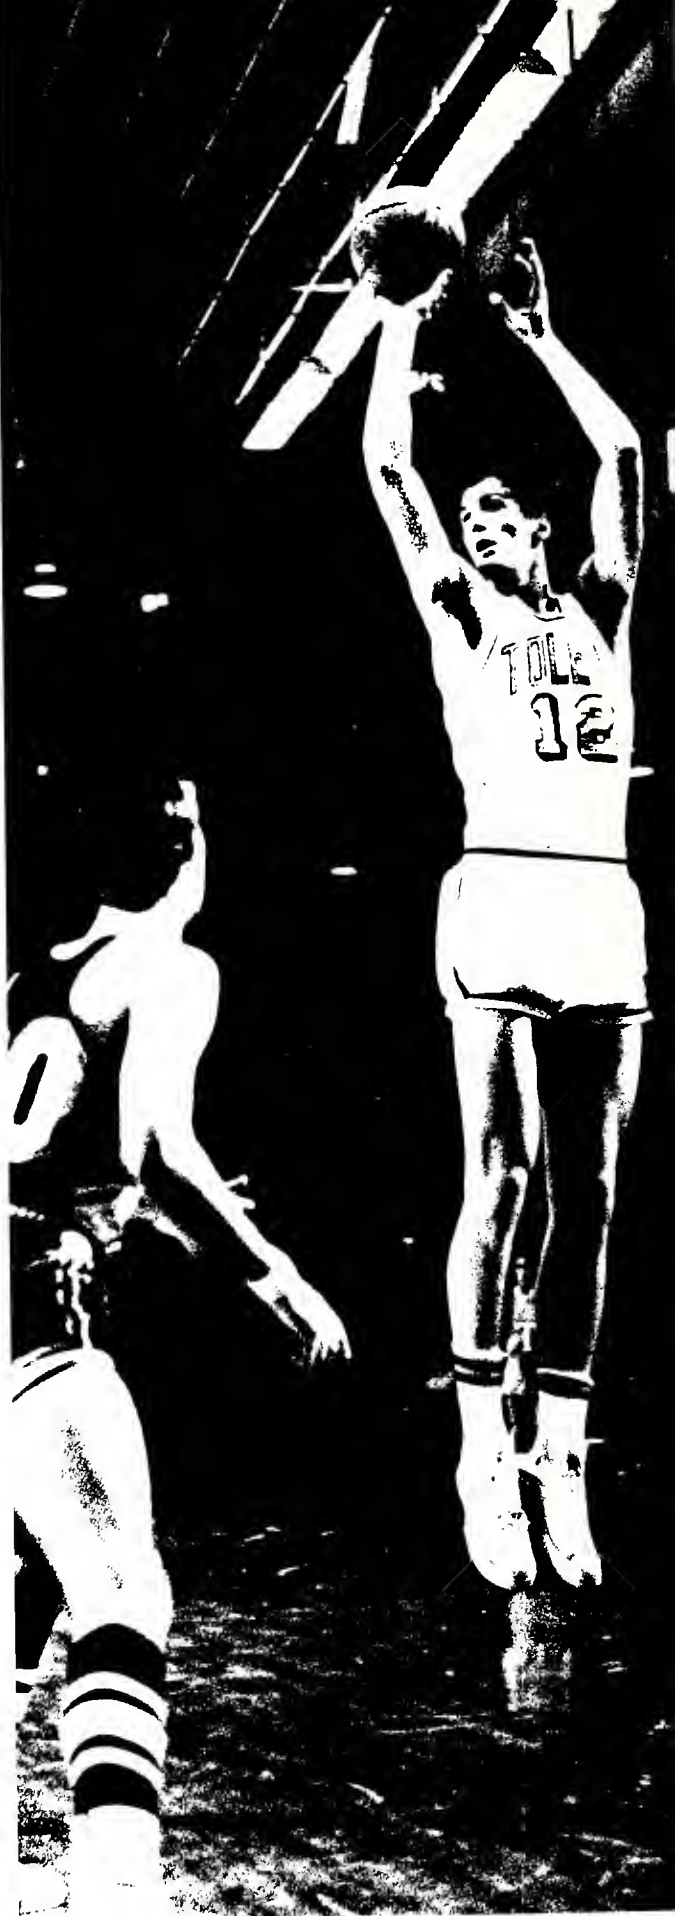

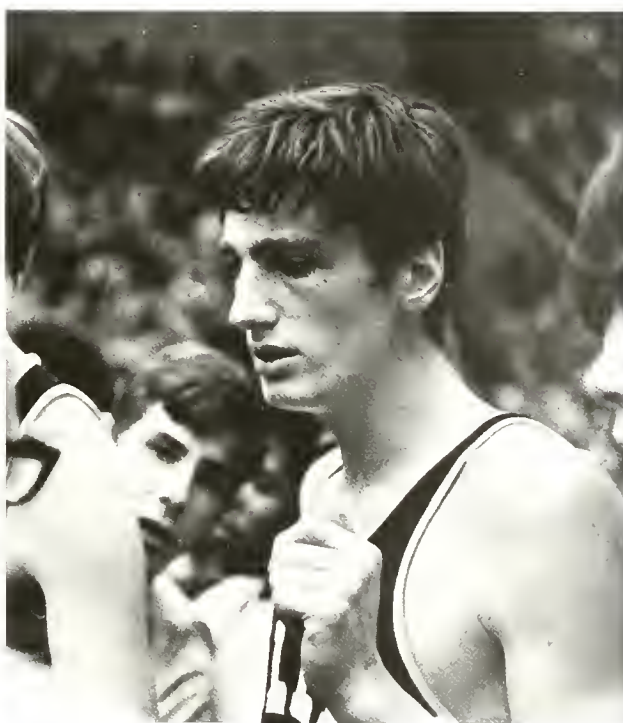

It was sink or swim for Toledo early in the conference season. After the opening loss to Miami, Toledo was faced with perennially powerful Ohio. The Rockets fought hard but lost in a close game and were forced to play catch-up in the league. We were 4-4 when we again met the Bobcats. But it had been a tiring season and TU just did not have the necessary punch, giving up 93 points, the most of the year.

The New Becomes Old As . . .

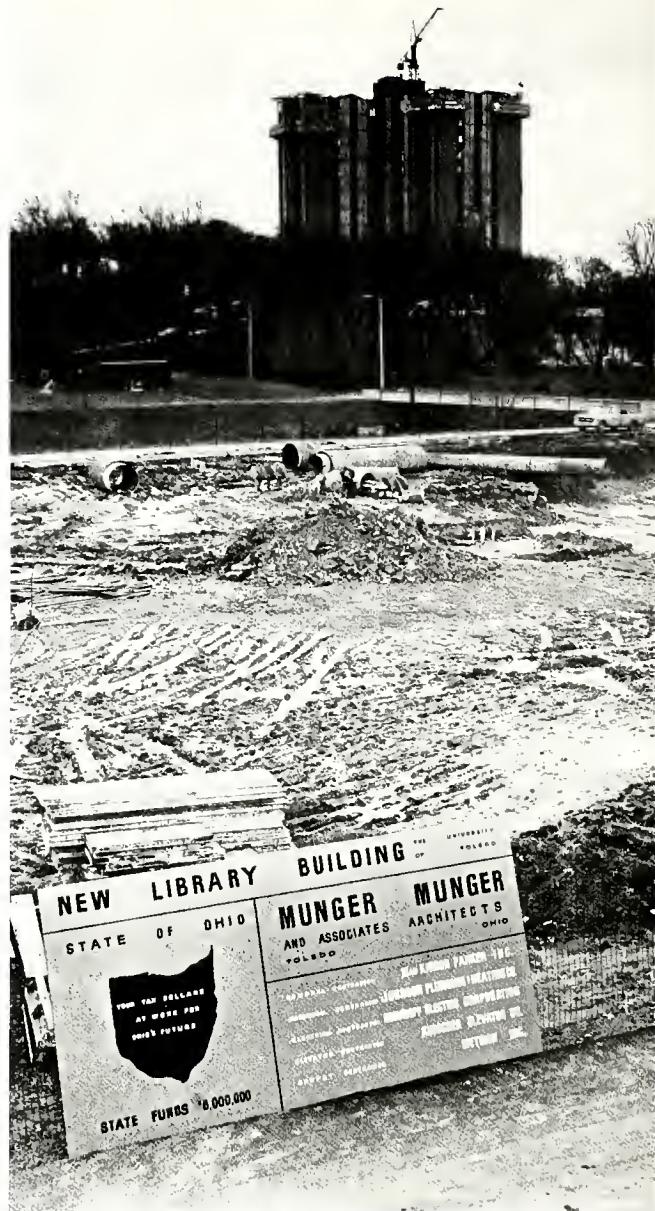

Toledo Expands . . .

Progress — some feel it moves too slowly, others too quickly. Perhaps it's just that the right things are being done in the wrong order.

While the University has begun expansion and renovation, there are improvements which should have been done previously in order to avoid an incongruous-looking campus.

Although the new dormitory nears completion and construction has begun on the Law Center, the library, the Student Union addition, and construction begun on University Hall is gradually turning the antiquated rooms and cavern-life hallways into a modern facility, — the campus eyesores — East and West Halls, Nashville housing for married students, and the outdated Field House and Glass Bowl are either not scheduled for renovation or removal until a later date or modernization is not complete.

*A frame of the cross with the image of Christ Crucified on it.
Over the head of the condemned Jesus
Shone a light; some 20 footcandles strong,
Directed from the ceiling.
And behold,
Beside his head, on the same plane as the cross
Lieth a crown-like, rough, irregular structure G
An old metal with a broken bottle piece
On the upper cross-section of the near-cylindrical brown, Meant to spray discomfort onto the scalp
Of an innocent's head. A helpless head,
Withstood by a suffering neck seeming to break off
Any where before the next tick of time.
Pity jingled in my heart; my eyes wandered further;
And behold, a sword; standing pointed Threatening his left side and all the ribs therein, Waiting as for orders to do its deed.
Tears felt I accumulating in my eyes,
Like a melting wax accumulating on a burning candle,
And dripping down my cheeks
As from a puncture in some tank
Located behind my eye lid.
Behold, to his right side, a cup
And a dish containing some bread;
Then a broom below the cup.
And now a whisper mysterious breezed into my inner ear
As from a faint confident voice,
As I stood gasped, my jaw on my palm.
"Paraphrase, paraphrase," insisted I
To this invisible whisperer; and he saith seemingly
This light therefrom is the acknowledgement from God
Of his son Jesus sent to earth
To die for you and me;
Its shining over his head introduces him
As the light of the world.
The crown; for the crown of thorns
Forced onto his head in contempt.
As told in the holy book.
The sword; for the horrible deed it did
After Lord gave up the ghost.
The bread and cup; for the Last Supper
The origin of Communion Sacrament of Christians.
The broom; for his sweeping away thy sins
With holy blood
As doeth a janitor with mop and water to a dirty floor.
But there hangs helpless a special one.
The lamb of God that mops the sins of your world.*

ANOTHER ENCOUNTER

*With your burden being dragged along the ground behind you, you enter into another person's life,
and you fear leaving him, too,
 as you left that guy who tossed his shoes in your bag making your burden heavier.
Yet you ponder, "Maybe he's different,"
 as you accept his hat, realizing it will never fit.
But he, too, is lonely,
 and his baggage has more travel stickers on it than yours,
 and you realize, "He knows."
So you wander through doors together, sharing mythical dreams,
 but as always dreams end,
and once again the road is beneath your feet,
 and one more town rapidly approaches.*

Last year the experts said Toledo could never finish first in the MAC. The Rockets finished 11-0 and broke a shower of records on their way to top Mid-American honors.

This year everyone said Toledo could do it and the pressure was on. The Rockets responded with 12 straight wins including a 40-12 victory in the Tangerine Bowl. Toledo ran its winning streak to 23 games, longest in the nation, and broke or tied 21 conference and university records in the process. Defensively, Toledo was the best in the country statistically, finishing first in total defense and pass defense.

Eleven Rockets were named to the first team All-Mid Am squad. Seven of these will be returning next year. Defensive tackle Mel Long was named to the third team AP All-American team.

His teams' performances over the past years won Frank Lauterbur the head coaches job at Iowa. His post will be filled by former Rocket defensive co-ordinator Jack Murphy.

As a team, Toledo was ranked 12th in the nation, the highest ever attained by any MAC school.

For Big Improvement

Following a season opening win with five straight defeats, the theme for the 1970 Rocket harriers became the 1971 Rocket harriers.

The opening win over the University of Detroit and Oakland University coupled with a twelfth place finish in a field of 20 teams at the All-Ohio meet proved to be the high point of the season for Toledo.

Next season first year Coach Don Kern will have all his runners returning and expects to have at least a .500 season and move up two notches from their dismal last place conference finish of this year.

The Rocket grapplers recovered from their opening season loss to post an impressive 9-3 record. The M.A.C. tournament was held at Athens. Although Toledo had two individual champions out of ten weight classes we were able to place no better than fourth. The individual champs were Ron Junko (134 lbs.) and Greg Wojciechowski (heavyweight). Dave Ember captured the consolation round in the 118 pound class.

Sisterhood At Toledo University

This year the Alpha Chi Omegas celebrated their Silver Anniversary here at Toledo University on November 17, 1970.

The founders of Alpha Chi Omega established the sorority as a music organization and it later became a social sorority exemplifying scholarship and well-rounded womanhood.

The spirit of togetherness and sisterhood in each Alpha Chi prevails through the year. This year they held a sisterhood retreat during the summer for a weekend at one of the sister's cottages in Michigan. It was a good time along with planning for the upcoming activities of the year.

Alpha Omicron Pi's Theta Psi chapter began at Toledo University in November of 1944. The AOPI's are one of the oldest national sororities on campus.

Alpha Omicron Pi's is definitely a necessary part of the college community. Many of these young women are seen working for Senate, UB, as committee chairmen, and in PanHel — where one of their sisters is president. They traditionally hold two formals, one in the winter and one in the spring, and throughout the year support many sorority functions.

The first national fraternity at the University of Toledo, Alpha Sigma Phi appeared on campus in 1937.

Alpha Sigs are well known on the university's campus. They are involved in all levels of SBG, participate on various committees, and are active in dorm government. With a well-rounded social schedule they enjoy many parties and the annual Black and White Spring Formal. Alpha Sigs are extremely spirited and sportsminded. Six of the past seven years have shown them as winner of the All-Sports trophy. For the past two years they have been first in the Homecoming Float Contest; and the Sigs have won the spirit trophy for the past three years.

The list of successful Alpha Sig activities can go on. Indeed "the cause is hidden; the results are well known." The result is the spirit and brotherhood of Alpha Sigma Phi.

The Xi Delta chapter of Chi Omega has had an extremely rewarding year. Sisters have proven their interest in campus activities as members of SBG and SU'B, Rock-ettes, Cheerleaders, members of the BLOCKHOUSE, and committee heads of Freshman Week, Frosh Camp, Homecoming, and WUS. The Chi O's were also busy in the community singing Christmas carols, donating food baskets, and collecting clothes for the needy. They held the annual Pledge-Active date Party, Winter Formal, Spring Formal, and Scholarship Dinner. ROTC and Pershing Rifles Sponsors, and three fraternity Sweethearts rounded out Chi Omega's year of success. Holding high the ideals of their Symphony and Motto, the Chi Omegas have true sisterhood.

Delta Delta Delta Sings To A First Place In

Delta Delta Delta sorority emerged from Psi Chi Phi local in October of 1944. Since then the Deltas have worked hard to bring their chapter to its active status at Toledo University.

Each spring the Tri Deltas sponsor a Student-Faculty Tea. They placed first in Women's Songfest and had the runner-up in the WUS Queen Contest. This fall, Nancy Williams, a Tri Delt, was elected Homecoming Queen. The Deltas have an annual Founder's Day party, Spring Formal, and a Christmas Pine party. They enjoy many fraternity-sorority functions. The Tri Deltas strive for sisterhood and unity.

As the Beta Nu chapter of Kappa Delta sorority, the KD's celebrated their 25th Anniversary on the U of T campus in April of this year. The national president came to visit the combined chapters of BG and TU for the celebration.

Fall rush was a great success with the chapter taking the largest pledge class. The alumnae chapter gave the KD chapter a smorgasborg for Founder's Day.

During Christmas vacation, the KD's held their annual Date Party and on Valentine's Day had a Roaring 20's party. Their pledges entertained the actives with the "Pledge Follies."

Through Kappa Delta's annual philanthropy project they raised money for the Crippled Children's Hospital; they also worked with the Red Cross and with Muscular Dystrophy.

Spring brings Songfest and much practice. This is also the time for Spring Formal, KD Man of the Year, and outstanding member award.

As the end of the school year ends, KD's say good-bye and good luck to seniors and look ahead to another great year in Kappa Delta.

Traditionally, Phi Kappa Psi has strived for and achieved the well-rounded chapter. The chapter welcomes the conservative and the liberal, but expects both to be a gentleman. In fostering diversity, Phi Psis encourage involvement which promotes pride for the fraternity and the University. Exemplifying our campus involvement is winning the Dean Parke's Trophy for the third consecutive year. The strength of Phi Psi brotherhood lies in the knowledge that they do serve themselves and the university in a valuable capacity.

Pi Beta Phi, the first national women's sorority, came to TU's campus in spring of 1945. Since then the sorority has accomplished many things to make it an outstanding organization at TU.

The Pi Phi arrow soared high this past year, leaving in its path numerous sources for pride. Pi Phi's long-standing tradition of fine singing, as proven by their capture of the first, second and third place titles in Songfest the past three years, was exhibited again on October 15, 1970. On this day, 21 exuberant new pledges marched down to the lunch table, loudly singing praise to Pi Beta Phi. To further commend the enormous spirit of the chapter, Pi Phi was heralded as the most spirited organization in 1970.

Special recognition has also been given to outstanding individuals in Pi Phi. Pi Phi's broad scope of interest reaches into many other areas of campus life, including Student Senate, SJC, Frosh Camp, and numerous clubs and committees. Their definition of happiness is engaging in pledge-active get-togethers, psuching up for formals and Florida, and experiencing true sisterhood.

Sigma Delta Tau's Bound By Sisterhood

Sigma Delta Tau was organized on Toledo University's campus in 1964. It is the youngest national sorority at the university.

The girls of Sigma Delta Tau have had a fulfilling year. Their activities have included a hayride, spaghetti dinner, roller skating party, Founder's Day, and active participation in the Greek Retreat.

Since 1964, the Alpha Omega chapter of Sigma Delta Tau has changed radically. It has become a sorority with different religions, races, and nationalities. But all the while, they have lived as sisters.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon Acquires New

Sigma Alpha Epsilon was founded on the University campus on March 22, 1953. The men of SAE strive for individuality on campus and they are found in every facet of university life.

A new house was purchased by the men of SAE in June and the SAE's are also proud of their sister organization, "Little Sisters of Minerva." This group is comprised of the women on the campus that the men of Sigma Alpha Epsilon feel are outstanding in their own specific fields pertaining to the University.

The SAE's are also active in the social aspect of life with many parties throughout the year. The best of these being Homecoming, Christmas Orphan Party, Black and White Formal which is held in the winter, Founders Day Celebration, and the famous "Paddy Murphy" party which incorporates one entire weekend.

The men of Sigma Alpha Epsilon are also involved in Interfraternity sponsored activities, intra-mural sports, Greek Week, Songfest Champs, and other public service projects round out the men of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Sigma Phi Epsilon Brothers Celebrate

Evolving from the local fraternity Chi Beta Chi, Sigma Phi Epsilon was founded from this local as the Ohio Iota chapter in fall of 1950.

Commemorating the 20th anniversary of their going national, the brothers festively celebrated with a banquet dinner attended by the Chapter Services Director from national headquarters at Richmond.

Highlights of the year were an overall first-place finish in the 1970 Greek Week activities, first-place finish in the swim meet, second-place in bowling, a money-raising project for a local 9-year old girl who had undergone a kidney transplant, and the acquisition of a record 30-man pledge class.

The sisters of Sigma Iota Chi celebrate their birth on Toledo's campus in April. Since their founding in 1965, the Sigma Iota Chis have participated actively in all Greek functions.

Life At The University Of Toledo

When it was '71 it was a very good year — for the sisters of Zeta Tau Alpha. Once again they won the first place trophy for homecoming float, and were among the top three in Women's Songfest. Zetas were also first in Panhellenic scholarship last spring and fall quarters.

Continuing their tradition as active campus leaders, Zetas are represented in SBG, SUB, Collegian, BLOCKHOUSE, Freshman advisors, Tour Guides, Homecoming Queen's Court, and Education, Journalism, Pharmacy, and Social Science honoraries.

Some Zeta traditions are Winter Formal, White Violet Ball, Blue and Grey Spirits, the scholarship heart, and the pride award.

Representatives of the Student Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam have asked student leaders to support them in making the Kent State indictments one of the issues of the mass demonstration scheduled for Oct. 31.

Claiming to speak for the students of America, Student Mobilization representatives have urged state-wide support for the demonstration by calling the indictments repressive against the students.

That may be the case; however, until all facts are known, taking a definite stand on the issue at this time may hurt rather than help those indicted.

Public opinion at this time is divided over the Kent State issue. Combined with the anti-war is the lack of popular support, may alienate support.

The Collegian agrees with Student Mobilization vice president, Joe Piasecki, in that the stand is "extremely myopic."

Bomb Scare Procedure

Within the past few weeks the University has been plagued by a number of mysterious bomb threats. As of date no one has been injured, nor have any explosive devices been discovered.

However, the potential for disaster still exists.

Campus security officers, assisted by maintenance personnel have attempted the task of making sure students vacate suspected buildings before they are searched. However, because of sheer lack of number compared to the number of students, they cannot be expected to do the job alone. Students also must cooperate.

In order to vacate a building as quickly and safely as possible, and not hamper attempts to locate any dangerous device, The Collegian urges that students:

--Upon hearing the fire bell or other warning, vacate the building as quickly as possible. Students should take the coats since searching may require the building to be closed for some time. Outside the building, students will be

An Academic Ghetto

The interim report by the Ohio Committee to In-state Campus Disturbances has pointed out that the s of campus unrest stem not only from national
--the war, pollution, poverty, racism--but also from the university community itself.

Findings indicate that the academic community-- upon by many as a sanctuary from the outside
--is not the haven it is thought to be. On the contrary, many students the sanctuary of the academic community contains as many frustrations as the outside world.

Students are forced to cope with a system of education stresses grade competition rather than learning for its value. They are left to be taught in some cases by faculty members or graduate assistants by persons who consider research more important than teaching. They must contend with unwieldy and times inefficient administrative bureaucracies that times treat them as sub-human.

They are discriminated in some cases by unfair fee schemes--the unequal distribution of faculty and rent parking fees for example. They also must contend with administrators who refuse to listen or act upon legitimate student requests.

his new legislation vitally affects the operation of colleges and universities in Ohio, and particularly the operation of all state-assisted colleges and universities. First, a new Section 2923.61 is added to the official code of the State of Ohio under the heading "Offenses Against Society." The new section of the Revised Code specifies that no person shall, in any circumstances "which create a substantial risk to the orderly conduct of lawful activities on a college or university" shall wilfully or knowingly engage in the following activities:

Perhaps the most important product of this year's Student Senate is the redrafting of the statement of Conduct Procedures and Standards for the University. The new document is, according to Trustee Lewis Thomas, "superior to the one in existence." The 20-page revised code enlarges upon rights of students, contains procedures concerning House Bill 1219, outlines ethical standards for hearing bodies and discipline officers, defines sanctions, and provides procedures for hearings and group conduct.

The updated code has solved much of the ambiguity and corrected many of the deficiencies of the original statement, which left too many areas, such as group conduct and hearing ethics, untouched.

Alpha Kappa Psi is mainly of a professional, not social nature. Some of its professional activities include an annual career conference for all students, a Senior Luncheon, and Executive Exchange Day. In addition to these professional activities, members also participate in community and university projects, luncheons, smokers, and theme parties. Locally, the chapter at the University co-sponsored a Press Day for area high school students.

Eta Kappa Nu

Eta Kappa Nu, an electrical engineering honorary fraternity, was founded October 28, 1904, at the University of Illinois, with the intent of promoting and rewarding scholarship among electrical engineering students. This organization works very closely with the College of Engineering in bringing guests to lecture for the department, and helps with freshman orientation.

The Pershing Rifles attended two drill meets this year, at Bowling

Interfraternity Council

The Interfraternity Council is composed of two delegates from each of its twelve member fraternities. The aims of the IFC are to encourage the best interests of the University, to foster greater cooperative efforts among the fraternities, and to increase better relations between Greeks and the student body.

The IFC, by providing services to its member fraternities, has sponsored IFC Rush, Songfest, Jr. IFC, the Greek Newspaper, and the Dean Parks Banquet. In conjunction with the Panhellenic Council, the Greek Activities Board was created to coordinate a program of well-rounded activities of interest to not only the Greeks on campus, but also the student body at large. Among these have been the Greek Retreat, Greek Rathskellar, and Art Show, a Fashion Show, and two Convocations of a topical nature — open to all students.

Panhellenic Council

Panhellenic Council, consisting of two members of each sorority at the University of Toledo, meets weekly to make decisions directly related to the groups. The purpose is to unify the Greek sororities on campus and to promote spirit.

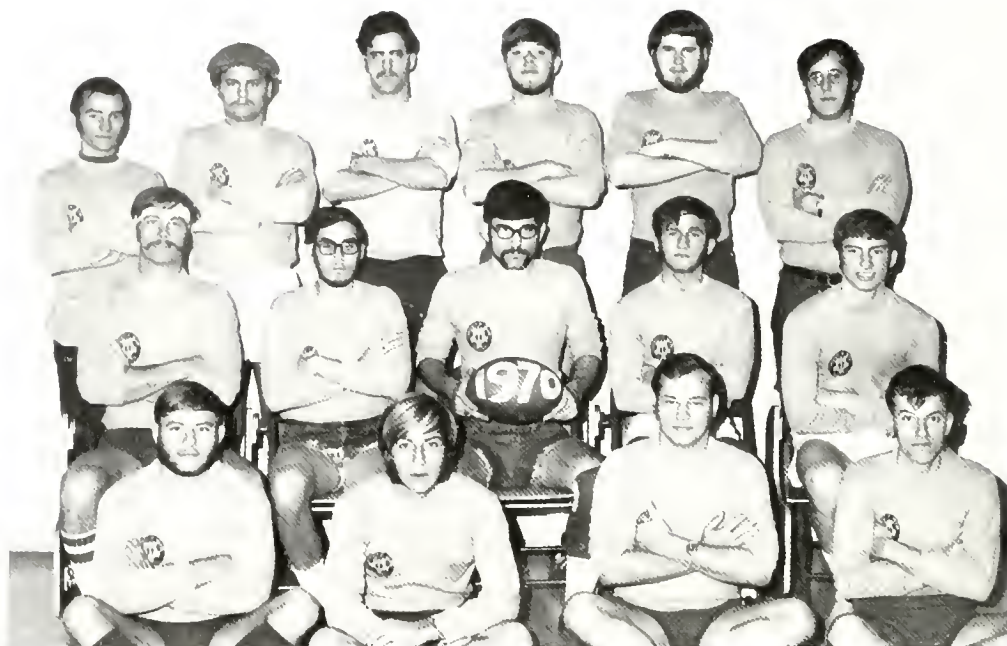

Senior Panhellenic has jurisdiction over rushing, and pledging policies, provides student tours of the campus, and gives the annual faculty tea.

Panbel has established a Greek Activities Board which planned a Greek Retreat in January, and a Rathskellar in February, and other activities for the remaining months.

Junior Panhellenic, made up of two members of each fall pledge class, gives the pledges a working knowledge of the purposes of Panhellenic as well as unifying all the sorority pledge classes.

IS H

Usually, this page is reserved for the editor to rationalize what he did or did not do, of which I choose to do neither. This book represents the University of Toledo and myself at our worst and best.

While editor, I discovered that the University of Toledo is not "dead," it just has a significant number of corpses sitting in classrooms. We have an "alive" campus but one has to open his eyes and not his oral cavity before discovering this fact.

Most students are here to be educated and to prepare themselves for a vocation. College life consists of beating the 8 o'clock class rap, punching a timecard at 5 o'clock, and enjoying beer (although some of our more enlightened colleagues do use pot).

With this in mind, it seems pointless to weave some divine omniscient message throughout the book. Each of us have had different experiences, opportunities, attitudes and abilities and therefore I cannot interpret the significance of a year for you. Think of how events related to you or more important, how you related to the events, and you will realize that if there is a theme, it is you.

I would like to extend my thanks and appreciation to Charity Krueger, Denise Neumann, Chris Kusner, Cheryl Speck and Jan Sutton, who possess qualities lacking in most people, the initiative to do a job and to do it well. My other thanks go to my managing and associate editors whoever they are and wherever they might be.

In the photographic department, all I can say is T.G.F.I.L. (thank God for Irving Lloyd). Irving is the guy with the camera, a smile and something nice to say to everyone. Probably, only past editors can truly appreciate his efforts both photographically and as a friend.

My extra special thanks go to the makers of Johnny Walker red and Marlboro cigarettes.

We came —

And we saw that sometimes our eyes deceive us — that the world is not always what it looks like to us — our visions of it are clouded and colored by pictures we had seen before.

We came —

Perhaps expecting to know everything — perhaps to forget something, but we did come.

Some to fill our lives — some to find answers to questions that lingered in our minds.

Asking questions —

That perhaps only time can answer — and in the passing of time maybe something will be revealed and we will see clearly our lives and how they fit in this jig-saw puzzle world.

Finding answers —

Isn't the easiest thing to do because it involves things like seeing — and doing things that haven't been done — and to do that we must move with the world — not apart from the world in our own minute existence, but with it.

And if we do this —

We become aware.
